Young Shannon had been robbed of a roll of bills amounting to $8.200. But it was not the mere loss of the money that troubled him; it was the fact that his nearest and dearest friend, a young man whom Shannon made a confident of, had turned out to be the thief. Shannon related the fact to an Even ing World reporter this P. M. The suspected man is samuel Clay, of Lexington, Ky. Last man is Samuel Clay, of Lexington, Ky. Aldermen Noonan and Harris spoke in favor of adopting the report as it stood.

They were in favor of giving the Metropolitan Traction Company all it wanted, and asserted that there was nothing in any of the pelitions which authorized the use of the troiley system.

Alderman O'Beirne wanted the whole matter referred back to the Railroad Committee, with instructions to get an ophinon of the subject by the Corporation Counsel, as to the best means of excluding all possibility of the introduction of the troiley system.

Alderman O'Beirne's amendment was lost by a vote of 13 to 7.

A vote was then taken on Alderman Morgan's amenaiment, which was lost by the vote of 14 to 0.

The vote on the report of the committee and Dickinson expressed themselves as unal-gan's amenament, which was lost by the vote of 14 to 0.

The vote on the report of the committee was 15 in favor of anoption and 5 against it. The Board then took up the report of the Railroad committee on the proposed extension of the Ninth avenue surface line from Sixty-fourth to One Hundred and Tenth streets, along Columbus aveaue.

Alderman Morgan offered an amendment to it the resolutions reported by the Committee favoring the granting of the franchise, by excluding the use of the trolly system.

It was lost by a vote of 12 to 7, and the resolutions were immediately afterwards adopted by a vote of 15 to 3.

After adopting the further report of the Railroad Committee approving the proposed connections between the fireadway and seventh Aveave, and the Houston, West street and Pavonia ferry lines, the application of the Houston, West street and Pavonia ferry lines, the application of the Houston street, Sixth avenue and Ninth avenue lines to connect their lines so as to form one continuous route was taken up.
